

FLYING BIKE COOPERATIVE BREWERY IS SEEKING BEERTENDERS

June 2021

Seattle has a number of outstanding and award-winning brewpubs. Flying Bike is the first to embrace the cooperative business model: a brewery and tasting room of, by, and for its members, serving the general public. We are seeking enthusiastic beertenders to help us maintain a unique and successful brewery and tasting room experience for our membership and the general public. Our beertenders are much more than bartenders, they are the face and execution of the cooperative brewery model. This job is fun and dynamic and the right person will work independently and together to inspire and channel the support of our over 2,100-strong membership and enthusiastically accept and direct the collective power that is a member-owned brewery.

We are hiring for 10-15 hours per week. Candidates must have Friday and Saturday availability.

RESPONSIBILITIES

- Ability to work solo behind the bar balancing activities such as pouring beer, filling crowlers, processing transactions through the POS, and changing kegs
- Maintain thorough understanding of all beers on tap, and be able to answer questions and guide customers to beers they would enjoy
- Provide an awesome and unique experience to our customers, both members and the general public.
- Maintain a clean and organized tasting room.
- Complete accurate reports at the end of each shift for day of sales.
- Assist in the execution of events that are held on site.
- Complete all side work and other tasks assigned by the bar lead and jobs team.

MINIMUM QUALIFICATIONS

- Excellent communication and collaboration skills.
- Excellent customer service skills.
- At least two years of industry experience (preferably brewery or tasting room specific).
- Extensive beer and brewing industry knowledge is desirable.

Flying Bike is located in the Greenwood neighborhood of Seattle. Interested and qualified persons can email resumes, with cover letter and availability, to jobs@flyingbike.coop
